

Zero Code-Waste

Don't waste
Re-use

Our motto at SOLARIS:

Don't reinvent the wheel

What do you need to successfully use a shared code

Get enough support from its developer,

Have enough knowledge to deploy and maintain,

Make sure it meets your important requirements

How To?

Consider all development can be reused

But platforms and generic ones for sure

Consider there are other labs which may need your solution

But some may already started their development

You do not need outsource whole the solution

But involve a company from the beginning